Business Hours

Check your Primary night booking it will be the same start time.

Other Considerations

Purchasing Back-up tickets does NOT guarantee successful stargazing, it just increases your chances of success. Obviously your primary intended night and your 1 or more Back-up nights, might all be too cloudy. Other times your Back-up night might fill up with regular bookings. Since we cap our attendance at 42 guests (21 in winter), Back-up night tickets will be cancelled (without refund -- see above) in the reverse order in which they were purchased (similar to the policy of "last hired = first fired"). Pay attention to your email so that you will realize if and when your Back-up night has been cancelled thus alerting you well enough in advance that you can exercise the option of re-booking another Back-up night -- assuming your vacation schedule allows.

Cancellation Policy

These $1 Back-up night tickets are not refundable for any reason. Sorry, but due to booking fees and credit card transactions, $1 per ticket barely covers booking expenses to say nothing of the labor involved in managing 2 guest lists every night.
